PORPHYRY is a volcanic stone that is characterized by excellent physical and mechanical properties that make it a stone used in unfavourable environments and in any climate condition.

It is the most resistant stone used in the world of construction. Porphyry is very unique for its hardness, inalterability to acids and salt, freeze/thaw proof, breaking strength, coefficient of friction.

Porphyry is mainly used for flooring and cladding. It is used in different environments, from rural to the luxury, both for interiors and exteriors. Thanks to the hardness of its minerals, it maintains over time its coefficient of friction, also in high foot and vehicle traffic areas and allows a very good adhesion also with rain, ice and snow.

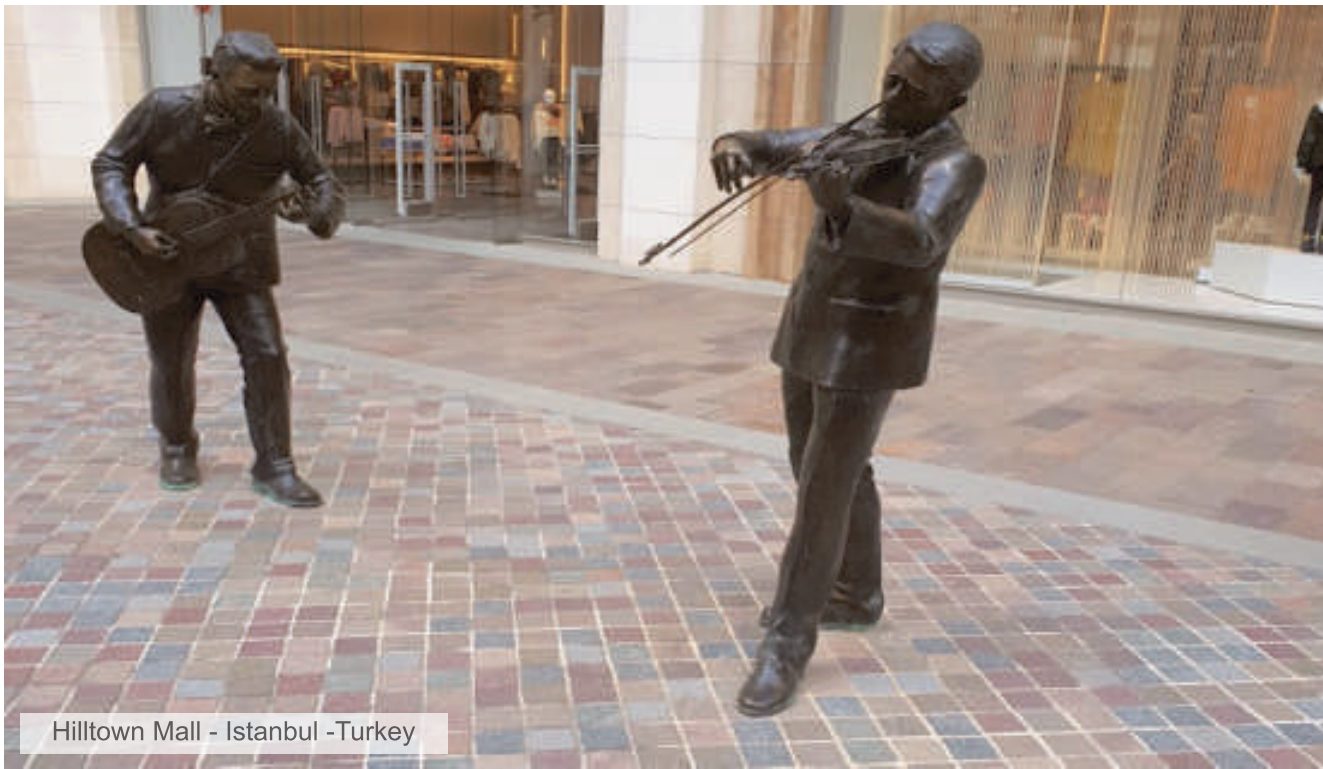

Let photos of some of our works speak about us..

Il PORFIDO è una pietra naturale di origine vulcanica che si contraddistingue per le sue eccellenti caratteristiche fisico-meccaniche che lo rendono un materiale da prediligere in ambienti avversi e in qualsiasi condizione climatica.

È la pietra più resistente utilizzata in edilizia e arredo urbano, infatti il porfido è veramente unico per durezza, inalterabilità in presenza di acidi e sali, resistenza a calore e gelo, agli urti, alla flessione, alla compressione e al logoramento.

Viene impiegato con ottimi risultati estetici in svariati ambiti, dall'ambiente rurale a quello lussuoso, sia per esterni che per interni. Grazie alla durezza dei minerali che lo costituiscono, rimane antisdrucciolevole nel tempo, anche in presenza di forte passaggio pedonale e di traffico veicolare, garantendo una buona tenuta anche in presenza di pioggia o neve.

Preferiamo i fatti. Lasciamo che siano le foto di alcune delle nostre realizzazioni a parlare di noi...

Porphyry made with Love Porfido fatto con Amore

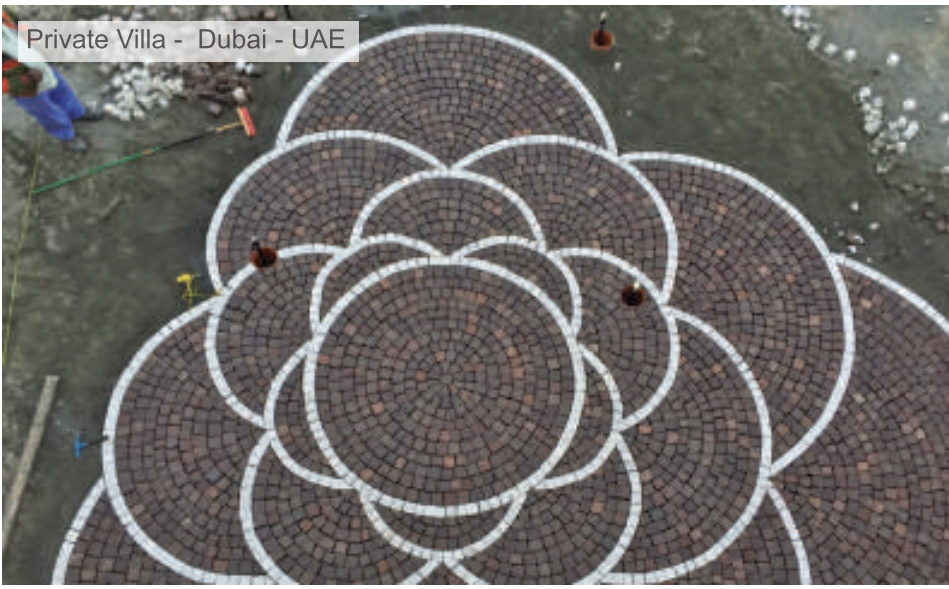

The story of Porfidi Italia 2000 is that of the Decarli family, linked to the tradition and to the passion for Porphyry. We have quarried and worked the stone for four generations. Porfidi Italia 2000 is specialized in porphyry, from the quarry to the working and laying. Passion expressed in all the porphyry products represents a unique heritage of experience, with attention to detail, that characterises our creations. All the stages of productions are followed step by step by the Decarli family, to give to their customers products that lasts over time, for the future generations.
This is why we can say that our porphyry is Porphyry made with love

La storia di Porfidi Italia 2000 è quella della famiglia Decarli, fortemente legata alla tradizione e alla passione per il Porfido. Estraiamo e lavoriamo la pietra da quattro generazioni. Porfidi Italia 2000 è specializzata in porfido, dall'estrazione alla lavorazione fino alla posa in opera. La passione espressa in tutti i prodotti rappresenta un'eredità unica, fatta di attenzione nei particolari, filosofia che dà vita alle nostre creazioni, ancor'oggi seguite passo dopo passo dalla famiglia Decarli per poter dare alla clientela un prodotto che sarà visibile a generazioni future.
Ecco perchè possiamo dire che il nostro è porfido fatto con il cuore, è Porfido fatto con Amore
